Postcolonial Geographies (Writing Past Colonialism Series)

Each gained fearsome authority in his respective territory. They are all concerned with himself, his wants and wishes, his joys and sorrows; sometimes when they speak of his deafness or his ill health, or confess his faults and appeal to the affection of his correspondent, they overflow with feeling and rise into an affecting eloquence, but always to the point.

The Thin Green Line: From Intractable Problems to Feasible Solutions in the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict

Other 19th-century contributors to the field include the German psychologist Hermann Ebbinghaus a pioneer in the experimental study of memory who developed quantitative models of learning and forgetting at the University of Berlin[35] and the Russian-Soviet physiologist Ivan Pavlov who discovered in dogs a learning process that was later termed " classical conditioning " and applied to human beings. This review has been hidden because it contains spoilers.
